

Rachmaninoff to Play Chopin and Liszt Here

Sergei Rachmaninoff, noted Russian pianist, will confine his program Monday evening at Hoyt Sherman auditorium to compositions of Chopin and Liszt, entirely.

Favorite compositions from these masters will further include several of their compositions never before heard on a local concert platform.

The magnificent "Ballade in F-minor" of Chopin, together with his "E-major Scherzo" have never been heard here by visiting celebrities. From Liszt, Mr. Rachmaninoff will play four numbers, the "B-minor Ballade," "Valse Impromptu," "Sonetto 104 del Petrarca" and the "E-major Polonaise."
