

RACHMANINOFF HERE TUESDAY.

That Night the Pianist Will Give Concert in Convention Hall.

Sergei Rachmaninoff, world-famous composer, conductor and pianist, will arrive in Kansas City at 9:50 o'clock Tuesday morning for his concert in Convention hall that night, Walter Fritschy, manager, announced last night.

The Russian virtuoso is now a citizen and resident of the United States, and has been since the downfall of the old czarist regime in Russia, when Rachmaninoff and his family were forced to flee the country for their lives. His home is in New York.

Due to the growth in popularity in America of the Rachmaninoff preludes, both will be played by him in his concert, Mr. Fritschy announced.
