

Rachmaninoff Is Praised For His Varied Programs

Sergei Rachmaninoff

When the great Russian pianist and composer, Sergei Rachmaninoff, plays here at the stock pavilion next Monday evening he will present a program which music critics have everywhere commended for its properly brief length, its absence of hackneyed pieces, and the varied interest in the stories as musically told by Brahms, Liszt, or Chopin. The program as prepared by Rachmaninoff is as follows:

1. Andantino and Variations..
.....Schubert-Tausig
2. Fantasie "Wanderer".....
.....Schubert-Liszt
3. a) Intermezzo, Op. 118
b) Ballade (Brahms
4. a) Rondo, Opus 16)
b) Nocture)...Chopin
c) Waltz)
5. Fairy Tales Nedtner
a) F-Minor, opus 26
b) B-Minor, opus 20
6. Prelude Rachmaninoff
7. Rakoczy March Liszt

This is the fourth of the winter concerts sponsored by the Wisconsin Union, a university student organization.
