The most talked-of Composer-Pianist of the Day—the man who gave the world an immortal Prelude. Hear RACHMANINOFF render the C sharp Minor Prelude as it should be played. Josef Hofman says: "Rachmaninoff! The man whose art, I feel, is as pure as gold. The sincere artist, equally admired by musicians and public. * * * And what a fascinating personality in private life! Simple, unassuming, truthful and generous. Yet behind the gentle man there crops out at times the playful devilry of a giant. Such is the man and artist, Sergei Rachmaninoff!" Lovers of music in New Jersey will not ignore this opportunity of making the acquaintance of the greatest musical genius of the age.
