

RACHMANINOFF TO-NIGHT.

The famous Russian pianist and composer, Rachmaninoff, will be heard in a concert of pianoforte music in Music Hall to-night. He is the third attraction in the Artist Series. The magnificent work of Rachmaninoff as a composer is equalled by the superb beauty of his pianistic performances. He arrives here this morning. The sale of seats, held at the Willis Music Store, indicates that a very large and distinguished audience will attend his concert to-night. His program will be as follows:

Etude, op. 3 (Paganini-Schumann); sonata, B minor (Chopin); four etudes (Chopin); four etudes, tableaux (Rachmaninoff); etude, op. 81 (Rubinstein); etude, op. 42 (Scriabine); Dance of the Gnomes (Liszt); D flat study (Liszt); Campanella (Liszt).
