

TICKET SALE FOR CONCERTS CONTINUES

*Seats for Single Concert
Will Be On Sale
January 8.*

The sale of season tickets for the five regular subscribed concerts of the Louisville Fine Arts Association, Ona B. Talbot managing director, will continue at Macauley's until Thursday morning, January 8, when all seats for the single concerts will be placed on sale. The first of the series of concerts will be presented on Monday evening, January 12, when Sergei Rachmaninoff, famous Russian composer-pianist, will be heard in recital. The four remaining concerts which comprise the season ticket will be the May Music Festival of four programmes on May 6, 7, 8, with mathis own music when he is also illustrious pianist. Only a short time ago he was offered conductorship of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the blue ribbon for such work and declined it only from pressure of other desires and obligations. The complete programme which Mr. Rachmaninoff has arranged for his Louisville appearance follows:

- 1 (a) Variations Mozart
(b) Rondo Capriccioso..... Mendelssohn
- 2 (a) Ballade—F minor..... Chopin
(b) Valse Chopin
(c) Scherzo—B flat minor..... Chopin
- 3 (a) Prelude, C sharp minor.... Rachmaninoff
(b) Valse, Opus 10..Rachmaninoff
(c) Valse, "Faust"... Gounod-Liszt

"ALCOHOL" FROZE.

(Indianapolis News.)

The subject up for discussion was how to prevent water in the radiator freezing. Coal oil, glycerine, alcohol, freezing compounds and all had gone through the conversational mill.

"Speaking of alcohol mixed with the water in the radiator," remarked Jones, "I don't want any of it if it is like some that I bought last year."
