

FAMOUS RUSSIAN PIANIST AND COMPOSER IS COMING

No more impressive figure has crossed the stage of Symphony hall, Boston, these many years than Sergei Rachmaninoff, at the Duluth Armory tomorrow night. Before he had seated himself at the piano his hearers from one end of the great room to the other, a hall in which there was not a vacant place, had realized the presence of a personality. Obviously Mr. Rachmaninoff lives much within himself, wears no surface moods and emotions, cultivates no manner for audiences, shuts himself from the world, except as far as music and his playing may reveal him.

Following is Rachmaninoff's program:

1. (a) VariationsMozart
- (b) Rondo Capriccioso.....Mendelssohn
2. (a) Ballade F minor.....Chopin
- (b) ValseChopin
- (c) Scherzo B flat minor.....Chopin
3. (a) Prelude C sharp minor.....
-Rachmaninoff
- (b) Valse Opus 10.....Rachmaninoff
- (c) Valse "Faust".....Gounod-Liszt
