

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sergei Rachmaninoff contributed to the American Red Cross one-half of the proceeds of a recent recital in Carnegie Hall, the other half going to Russian War charities. In sending his check for $2,031 to Chairman Norman H. Davis, Rachmaninoff expressed his great sympathy "for the war sufferers of this country and others as well."